LITTLE LOCALS.

Hagerstown will have a big day next Monday in celebration of the 4th of July. There will be a great parade, reel races, a sham battle, fireworks and amusements of every sort for the day and until late at night.

Little Anna Elwood, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elwood, of Vanleesville, was blown into an open cellar way during a heavy windstorm last Wednesday, and was so badly injured that she died the following day.

Mrs. C. C. Bush, of this county, who recently returned from missionary duty in Africa, was operated upon at the Charles Town Hospital last week for hernia, and at the same time her appendix was removed. She is reported to be recovering nicely.

The Jefferson Lunch Room, Robert Shipley, proprietor, will have an especially fine lot of icecream this week. Peach icecream, made from the fresh fruit, raspberry or all the other usual flavors can be supplied to families and will be on sale at the restaurant. Place your order for Sunday.

Last Wednesday night while Guy Noland and Daniel Shipley, of this place, were driving in an automobile to Charles Town the car became unmanageable and ran into a telephone pole near Mr. Dutterer's home, not far from Charles Town. The car, which belongs to Mr. Noland, was badly wrecked, but the occupants escaped with minor injuries.

George W. Cross, a well-known resident of the Rocky Marsh neighborhood, west of town, met with a painful accident last Saturday. He was engaged in hauling stone for the county roads, when he fell heavily upon his side, fracturing three of his ribs. Dr. G. W. Banks was summoned and gave him surgical attention, and Mr. Cross is now getting along very well.

Last Sunday was an ideal day for motoring, and hundreds of cars were on the roads in this section. Some one took the time to note the automobiles that passed along Princess street during the afternoon, and the average was one a minute for as long as the count was kept. The good roads of Jefferson county, with no toll gates, are very attractive to automobile tourists.

Dr. W. S. Link, a prominent dentist of Parkersburg, formerly of this county, met with a peculiar accident a few days ago. While treating a patient in his office he turned suddenly to get an instrument when he caught his foot in a rug and was thrown to the floor. He could not arise, and physicians being summoned it was discovered that he had sustained a compound fracture of the leg above the ankle.

The street lights of Shepherdstown are being extinguished at a ridiculously early hour in the evening. They are not turned out until after 8 o'clock these long evenings, and yet they are turned off at 10 o'clock or soon thereafter. If the lights are not to be kept burning until bedtime they may as well be dispensed with altogether. Strangers in town this week have had the laugh on us at this primitive attempt at street lighting, and our own people are complaining greatly.

The fourth of July celebration in Shepherdstown will be held on Monday night, July 5th, when a time display of fireworks will be set off at some convenient place in the town. J. P. Rush and H. P. Schley have secured a nice lot of fireworks of every sort with contributions from the people of the community, and we look for the handsomest display of this sort that our town has ever had. A treat will also be provided for the children. Everybody is invited to come and enjoy the evening.

Frank W. Myers has sold to Mr. Reynolds Moler the lot on the corner of Washington and Church streets that he recently purchased from the Smurr estate. Mr. Moler, who paid $800 for the lot, will erect upon it a comfortable dwelling-house of pleasing design and with modern conveniences. This is a very desirable situation for a home, and we are glad to know that it is to be so nicely improved. Mr. Myers has bought from Mrs. R. C. Ringgold two lots on Fairview avenue, for which he paid $350.

Word has just been received here, as we go to press, that S. H. Weihenmayer, a prominent business man of Hagerstown, committed suicide at his home in that place this morning by shooting himself. His son was accidentally shot and killed a few weeks ago, and it is said that the old man and his troubles weighed on his mind. Mr. Weihenmayer was one of the owners of the Blue Ridge Knitting Mills, and some years ago was interested in the knitting factory in Shepherdstown.

A new sort of catfish is being caught in the Potomac river in the vicinity of Shepherdstown, principally on trot-lines. They are called Mississippi catfish, and it is said that they were placed in the river a couple of years ago by the government. They seem to be plentiful, and the specimens caught so far have ranged in weight from a half pound to two pounds. They are very excellent eating. The Mississippi catfish gets very large, weighing as much as a hundred pounds. There will be lively times if Bill Swope gets a hundred-pounder on his trot-line.

A couple of Maryland youths, said to be from Weverton, went at a last clip last Sunday through the toll-gate near Antietam Station in order to avoid paying toll, but they came to a sudden stop when they ran full, tilt into an automobile belonging to Mr. Nunnemaker, of Keedysville, at Crow's Crossing. The car was not damaged but the motorcycle was badly wrecked and its owner, Horace Meneffe, had his wrist badly cut. The mendacious Haggie Mail stated the young man was from Shepherdstown, also Harper's Ferry, and had a Maryland license!

Last Saturday afternoon a storm of most threatening aspect passed to the north of Shepherdstown, our neighborhood just getting one edge of a shower of rain. North of town and across in Maryland there was a great deal of hail, that did considerable damage to corn and wheat and played havoc with the gardens. Sharpsburg seemed to catch the worst of the storm. The gardens were almost ruined there and the wheat was greatly injured. Hundreds of panes of glass were broken by the hail, the Nicodemus House and Delaney's Hotel suffering the most.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Hon. William Campbell, of Charles Town, formerly State Senator from this district, was in Shepherdstown last Saturday, having come here to attend a meeting of the Runmeyer Society. Mr. Campbell has just returned from a trip to England and Scotland, having safely made the voyage through the waters menaced by the German submarines. He says that the people of Great Britain have absolutely no doubt as to the ultimate victory of the Allies over the Germans. The British as well as the French were entirely unprepared for the war, and they have been obliged to remain on the defensive until they can acquire the necessary stores of arms and ammunition with which to equip their soldiers. There is an army of two million men now in training ready to be sent to the front just as soon as there is plenty of equipment. England has been short of high explosives, but this defect in munitions is being rapidly remedied, as supplies are being gotten in from the United States and elsewhere. Within the next few months it is believed that the Allies will begin an aggressive campaign that will lead to victory.

Hon. A. Bliss McCrum, the new member of the State Board of Control, is in Shepherdstown today conferring with Principal Thos. C. Miller in regard to the location of the new dormitory for Shepherd College. The purchase of the H. Pinkney Schley lot will be concluded and the dormitory site selected, so that work may be started just as soon as the preliminary arrangements can be made.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh N. Pendleton, of McKeesport, Pa., and Mr. Hugh P. Allen, of Pittsburg, drove here in an automobile and spent Sunday at "The Bower," and stopped also for a brief visit in Shepherdstown. They report a very delightful trip over the mountains and through the picturesque scenery of Pennsylvania and Maryland. They returned home on Monday.

Mr. C. P. Light, of Havre de Grace, Md., spent last Saturday in Shepherdstown. Mr. Light was a native of this vicinity, having been born near Billmeyer's Mill, but he had not been here for many years. He may return to Shepherdstown to spend his declining years.

Answering The Last Summons.

James H. Conklyn, one of Jefferson county's well-known and respected residents, died last Saturday night in Charles Town at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Oscar K. Phillips, in the 80th year of his age. He had been in failing health for some time past from the ill incident to his advanced years. Mr. Conklyn was a man of the highest character and was greatly esteemed by many friends. He was a Confederate veteran, having served with gallantry in the Southern army during the Civil War as a member of Company B, Twelfth Virginia Cavalry, a regiment that saw much active service. He is survived by his wife, who was a Miss Heffebauer, and the following children: Edgar D. Conklyn, of this county; Mrs. Belle Knode and Wm. H. Conklyn, of Richmond, Va.; Mrs. W. E. Myers, of Washington; Mrs. Oscar K. Phillips, of Charles Town; also three brothers, Wm. J. Conklyn, of Nebraska, and Charles C. and G. Mason Conklyn, of this county. He was buried in Charles Town on Monday.

William A. Beltz, who for many years has lived on the farm of Turner brothers, northwest of town, died suddenly last Friday night, aged 59 years and 6 months. He had been in failing health for some months, suffering from kidney trouble, but his death was at the last very sudden. He had become much worse, and though a physician was quickly summoned, he passed away before the doctor arrived. Mr. Beltz was a lifelong resident of this vicinity, and had many friends who regret his death. He was an industrious and energetic man, kindhearted and upright in all his ways, liked by all who knew him. He is survived by his wife, who was a Miss Johnson, and two daughters, Mrs. Charles E. Turner and Miss Rose Beltz. The funeral was held at his late home Sunday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. Absalom Knox, assisted by Rev. I. D. Worman, and the body was laid to rest in Elmwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Hebb, widow of Edward Hebb, died last Thursday night at her home in Sharpsburg, after an illness of a few days from paralysis, aged 68 years. She survives her husband, whose death was also the result of paralysis, only about six months. Mrs. Hebb was very highly esteemed by all who knew her, and leaves a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn her death. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Annie Starlipper, Mrs. Odi Cox, Mrs. Michael Bender, Sharpsburg; Wilbur H., of Bridgeport, opposite Shepherdstown; Mrs. Clara Albright and Mrs. Nellie Miller, Security; Mrs. Helen Silby, Frederick, and Charles Hebb, of Williamsport.

Mrs. Amelia Thomas, widow of Wilbur F. Thomas, died last Monday at her home in Kearneysville, in the 72d year of her age. Mrs. Thomas was a much-respected woman and a member of the Presbyterian Church. She is survived by one son and five daughters. Her funeral service was held yesterday in the Presbyterian Church at Kearneysville. Rev. Dr. Charles Ghiselin officiating, and her body was interred in the graveyard adjoining.

Miss Marguerite Trail, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Trail, of Washington, formerly of Harper's Ferry, died recently in Roseburg, Oregon, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Fenton. John D. Peawell, who lived near Manning's School-House, this county, died on Tuesday, aged 45 years. His wife and ten children survive him.

Normal School Affairs.

The State Board of Regents transacted much important business at its meeting in Charleston last week, when the faculties of the normal schools were appointed and other matters of public interest attended to. The faculty of Shepherd College, headed by Principal Thos. C. Miller, was reappointed, except that the place of Prof. Tingley was not filled, he having declined a reappointment to accept a position in his home city of Buffalo, N. Y. Miss Wood was not again named as the teacher of domestic science, as this position is dependent upon an arrangement yet to be consummated in connection with work of the University. An important addition to the faculty is made in the appointment of S. O. Bond, who will teach pedagogical studies and, in accordance with an arrangement made with the board of education, will serve as district supervisor for the public schools of Shepherdstown district. This plan will, it is believed, result in greatly increased efficiency in our public schools and bring them into closer and more advantageous relations with the normal schools. Mr. Bond comes to this work very highly recommended. He is a graduate of the West Virginia University and of Columbia University, and is thoroughly well prepared for the work he will undertake. For the past year he has been acting principal of the Glenville Normal School. The board gave an increase of $50 in the salary of all of the teachers of Shepherd College.

The Board of Regents appointed O. I. Woodley, who has been principal of Fairmont Normal School, to be principal of Marshall College at Huntington, succeeding L. J. Corby. Prof. Corby has been at the head of Marshall College for seventeen years and had brought it to a high state of popularity. It is said that he and Governor Hatfield have had serious differences of opinion, however, and relations were so strained that Mr. Corby concluded not to seek a reappointment. The board appointed Dr. Woodley to the position, though it is not certain that he will accept. Joseph Rosier, a well-known educator of Fairmont, where he was formerly superintendent of the public schools, was appointed principal of the Fairmont Normal. There were very few changes in the faculties of the other normal schools.

The board was not able to elect a president of the University, and acting President Frank H. Trotter will continue in that capacity for the ensuing year. While a number of educators have been under consideration during the past year, the board could not secure a man that it was believed would meet the requirements of the position.

Trying to Make Trouble.

For some time past plans have been afoot for the reorganization of the Martinsburg Power Company, which owns the hydraulic power plant at Dam No. 4 and which furnishes the electricity used in lighting Shepherdstown. In one of the plans for reorganizing was the suggestion that the company named be merged with the Hagerstown and Frederick Railway Company, of which Emory L. Coblenz is president. That some one in Martinsburg is seeking to injure the power company is shown by the following letter from an anonymous writer that was received some weeks ago by Mr. Coblenz, and which has just been published:

Martinsburg, W. Va., May, 1915.

Mr. Emory Coblenz, Frederick, Md.

Dear Sir:—

I am sure you will excuse me for giving a little free advice—You had best stay out of the deal with the Martinsburg Power Company. Do you or your company know the condition of the plant at Dam No. 4? Do you know that it is useless eight months out of twelve? Do you know what the company pays the canal company for water? Do you know what their present debts are? Do you know that Mr. Ashcom was paid $10 per day to make the report? Do you know of $19,000 debts not in the Ashcom report? Do you know the revenue will never pay the fixed charges? Do you know they, the company, must unload on somebody and soon? Do you know that during October and November last they consumed nearly 1,700 tons of coal each month at that cost in this place? Do you know that there is going to be all kinds of suits over this concern and all kinds of trouble? Do you know that it is a good thing to steer clear of? I know you well. You once were a lawyer, and this advice does not cost anything. The plant won't bear any additional capital. Can't pay on what they have.

A FRIEND.

The letter was returned to the company by Mr. Coblenz, and every effort will be made to ascertain who was malicious enough to write it. The officials deny the statements of the anonymous writer and say that when the present plans for reorganization shall have been matured there will be ample income to meet all obligations.

The Waterworks Project.

The proposition for the construction of a waterworks system for Shepherdstown has now been placed in a definite form, which consists in the organization of a company that will take over the present Shepherdstown Electric Light and Power Company and merge it with a corporation that will install and operate the water system and build a power plant at the mouth of the Antietam creek, about three miles east of this place. The figures and other data have been carefully worked out, estimates and bids for the entire work are in hand, and the plans have been matured. Capitalists from elsewhere have been interested to such an extent that it is only necessary now for our home people to show their interest by subscribing for a reasonable amount of the bonds, as an indication of their sympathy with the project. Representatives of the company are now interviewing local persons and securing subscriptions to the securities to be offered, and we very earnestly hope that they may find a generous response. The plans seem feasible and satisfactory. The water-power to be developed at the Antietam is ample to light and furnish power for all this section, including the operation of electric pumps for the water station, besides furnishing a considerable quantity of electricity to be sold on contract with other companies. It is proposed to pump the water from deep wells and erect a reservoir at a high point at the edge of town.

Waterworks have never seemed so near as at present, and we very earnestly hope that our people will encourage the proposition by giving it the reasonable support that those at the head of the movement ask for. If one-sixth, or even one eighth, of the amount of money required is subscribed for in Shepherdstown the project will be a success and work will be immediately commenced.

Notes of the Church Services.

The open-air service last Sunday evening was attended by a very large congregation—all the seats were occupied and many persons sat upon the grass and so enjoyed the interesting exercises. The service was in charge of Rev. Absalom Knox, of the Southern Methodist Church, who preached an impressive sermon. Hon. G. W. Crabbe, of Charleston, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of West Virginia, was present and made a brief but very interesting address, in which he spoke of the work of the organization and the pressing need now of law enforcement. Mr. Crabbe is a pleasing speaker and the people enjoyed hearing and meeting him. The music for the service was excellent, Miss Goldie Miller singing a solo very acceptably. The service will be held as usual next Sunday evening at half-past six o'clock, with Rev. William Rogers in charge.

Owing to the absence of the pastor, there will be no services in the Elk Branch and Zion Presbyterian churches on the first and second Sundays in July. The service in the Union Church at Middletown is postponed until the third Sunday in July at 3 p. m.

Communion services will be held in the Shepherdstown Presbyterian Church Sunday, if Providence permits, at 11 a. m., with preparatory services Saturday at 11 a. m. Services in the Kearneysville Presbyterian Church Sunday at 8 p. m.

M. E. Church South—Shepherdstown 10.30 a. m., preaching by the pastor, followed by communion service. Marvin Chapel, preaching by the pastor at 3 p. m. Uvilla, special young people's service at 7.30 p. m.

Reformed Church—Shepherdstown, regular service at 11 a. m. Kearneysville, Sunday school at 2 p. m., service at 7.30 p. m.

For the Runmeyer Monument.

The Runmeyer Society on Monday last signed the contract with the Forbes Granite Company, of Chambersburg, Pa., for the erection of the monument to James Runmeyer, inventor of the steamboat. This monument is to be erected on the cliff overlooking the Potomac river, near the Norfolk & Western Railway bridge, in the eastern suburbs of the town, on the ground purchased from the railroad company. The top of the cliff is to be made into a plaza forty feet square, with a stone wall surrounding it, and a flight of steps leading to the lower ground. The monument, which is to be of either Mount Airy or Woodstock granite, is to be 75 feet in height, the design being an Ionic column surmounted by a polished granite globe. Work is to be commenced on the preparation of the site next week, and Mr. Forbes promises to push the contract as fast as possible. The cost of the memorial is $15,200.

The Runmeyer Society at a meeting last Saturday agreed to pay U. S. Martin $300 for his alleged rights to the property that had purchased from the railroad company and for his claim as far west as Mill street. The society felt the necessity of having the contract for the erection of the monument signed before the 1st of July, and in order to avoid delay and litigation yielded to Mr. Martin's claims.
